

Greetings from the Asian and Pacific Coconut Community (APCC)!

APCC is now in the process of updating one of its publications titled the "Directory of International Coconut Researchers and Development Workers."

We are inviting all coconut researchers and development workers around the globe to download and fill up the prescribed form below in order that the updated Directory will reflect the current status of the world coconut researchers and development workers.

This Directory will be a good source of possible consultants and/ or experts who may be commissioned by the APCC or other UN-Related agencies and private companies to do coconut related research and development work including commercial ventures.

Please email the duly filled-up forms to: apcc@indo.net.id or fax to: (62-21) 5221714.

We highly appreciate and thank all researchers and development workers who have already spent their precious time to fill up the forms and submitted them to the APCC Secretariat.

With best regards,

ROMULO N. ARANCON, JR.
Executive Director, APCC
